Audiophile Audition (John Sunier - 2014.08.11)

AUDIOPHILE AUDITION
[...] these recordings, made by Audite in 2012, only used a 44.1K sampling rate (the same as standard CDs), but with a 24-bit word length instead of the usual 16-bit. This achieved a much improved sonic for the recordings, though not as good as a higher sampling rate might have. My personal preference for pipe organ recordings is a true binaural recording, heard via good headphones, but Audite's multichannel surround is very good.
